Course Selection/Schedule Changes - The master schedule is based upon student requirements and requests for courses made at the time of registration during spring. Course enrollment requires satisfaction of pre-requisites and the timely request by students to enroll. As a result of changing enrollment and required course listings for state and college requirements/admissions, the availability of priority choices for class schedules cannot be guaranteed. Scheduling conflicts may necessitate a change in the sequencing and/or programming of a student's "first choice" of course selections. Requests to change course schedules may be made during the designated dates and times scheduled by the counseling department in the summer. Changes of course selections may not be made to accommodate a request for a particular faculty instructor or class section. Requests for changes following official registration payment dates and/or designated counseling dates may not be granted due to scheduling constraints. Requests for class schedule changes will not be made following the second week of the semester.
